INTERNATIONAL DAY OF SPORT FOR DEVELOPMENT AND PEACE

Joël Bouzou, President and Founder of Peace and Sport, Prince Albert II of Monaco, H.E. Mr. Juan Manuel Santos, President of the Republic of Colombia and 2016 Nobel Peace Prize laureate, Didier Drogba, Champion for Peace and H.E. Mrs. Maria Angela Holguin, Colombian Minister of Foreign Affairs.

H.S.H.
Prince Albert II
of Monaco

The celebration of the International Day of Sport for Development and Peace was initiated by Peace and Sport, an international organization based in Monaco. Since its launch in 2013 by the United Nations and the International Olympic Committee, this day has been marked by several hundred initiatives around the world to promote a message of peace.

Within this context, the “#WhiteCard” operation which started in the Principality has positioned the white cardboard as the new international symbol of peace on April 6. I am proud of this initiative, representing the values promoted by my country through its involvement in the sport movement’s goal to promote peace.

April 6 is a unique opportunity to support and join the peace-through-sport movement. I am convinced that sport has a strong capacity of action to educate and assist young people who are often looking for benchmarks in life.

I would like to express my gratitude to all individuals and the organizations who have participated in the #WhiteCard campaign for their commitment to a more peaceful world.

Joël Bouzou,
President and Founder
Peace and Sport

To celebrate the 5th International Day of Sport for Development and Peace on April 6th, Peace and Sport encouraged the international community to engage in activities to promote the positive values of sport. This record-breaking mobilization resulted in 90 million people reached on social media by the symbolic 2018 #WhiteCard campaign.

This year #WhiteCard went more viral than ever. Launched from Colombia by H.S.H. Prince Albert II of Monaco, H.E. Mr. Juan Manuel Santos, President of the Republic of Colombia and 2016 Nobel Peace Prize laureate, H.E. Mrs. Maria Angela Holguin, Colombian Minister of Foreign Affairs and Didier Drogba, Champion for Peace, the 2018 digital campaign rallied heads of states, ministers, sports organizations, associations and athletes worldwide. The diversity of stakeholders and their commitment around the entire world illustrated the magnitude of the #WhiteCard as a symbol of the peace-through-sport movement.

In addition, 850 projects in 138 countries spanning all 5 continents led by international sports federations, sports clubs, institutions, schools and associations, athletes, Champions for Peace and civil society were organized to celebrate April 6 and were registered on the April6.org platform. Thank you to everyone who played a part in this fruitful 2018 mobilization.

Peace and Sport  Organisation pour la Paix par le Sport, is an international, neutral and independent organization based in Monaco which promotes peace using the power of sport. Founded in 2007 by Modern Pentathlon Olympic Medallist and World Champion Joël Bouzou, Peace and Sport is under the High Patronage of H.S.H. Prince Albert II of Monaco.

The organization uses the structured practice of sport as a tool to build sustainable peace by educating young generations about positive values, fostering social stability and cohesion, and promoting dialogue among communities.

In 2014 Peace and Sport launched the #WhiteCard digital campaign and the www.april6.org platform in order to create a global movement for the International Day of Sport for Development and Peace and highlight the positive power of sport. Since then, both initiatives have met great success. Over the last four years, the platform has a final count of 2,110 registered projects from 180 different countries.

The celebration of this symbolic day and the growth of the sport-for-development-and-peace movement legitimize and demonstrate that sport is formidable tool to tackle social issues, as well as being a cost-effective mechanism to create more cohesive societies.

THE ORIGIN OF APRIL6

On 23 August 2013 the UN General Assembly with the support of the International Olympic Committee declared April 6th as the International Day of Sport for Development and Peace (IDSDP) at the United Nations Headquarters in New York. This decision represented a historic step in recognizing the transformative power of sport and its boundless potential to advance positive social change.

April6.org is an online platform that encourages, promotes and catalogues symbolic worldwide events and sport-based initiatives carried out by a variety of different stakeholders to celebrate the International Day of Sport for Development and Peace.

The #WhiteCard is a worldwide digital campaign created by Peace and Sport that promotes the positive and constructive values of sport. Every year the #WhiteCard campaign reaches millions of people through social media. Holding up a #WhiteCard, just like a referee, has been recognized as the symbol of the peace-through-sport movement and it is an action that symbolizes the positive power of sport. In contrast with the red card, which signifies the most serious offense in sport, the #WhiteCard is a gesture of inclusion, equity and peace.

PEACE AND SPORT CELEBRATIONS

COLOMBIA

#WhiteCard met with huge success in Colombia

This year, the 2018 #WhiteCard campaign was launched in Colombia by Peace and Sport's President Joël Bouzou, aided by H.S.H. Prince Albert II of Monaco, H.E. Mr. Juan Manuel Santos, Colombian President and 2016 Nobel Peace Laureate, H.E. Mrs. Maria Angela Holguin, Colombian Minister of Foreign Affairs and Didier Drogba, football player and Champion for Peace. These eminent people came together to promote ideals of peace, non-violence and social inclusion through the #WhiteCard campaign. In addition, a number of peace-through-sport side events were organized in cooperation with the NGOs Fútbol con Corazón and Amigos del Mar which included soccer and surfing Sport Simple Workshops that benefitted 300 youngsters.

An official Memorandum of Understanding was signed by the Principality of Monaco and the Republic of Colombia during the launch with the aim of promoting sport for social inclusion. Additionally, spread the #WhiteCard message, and embassies in Colombia for Brazil, Korea, Egypt, and Morocco.

PEACE AND SPORT CELEBRATIONS

Sport as a source of inspiration in refugee camp

Sport is a great tool which can help and assist refugees to overcome settlement challenges. With that in mind, this year Peace and Sport celebrated the “Live Together on April6” in the Za’atari Refugee Camp with the support of UNHCR and Champions for Peace Aya Medany and Christian Karembeu. The Jordan National Olympic Committee, the International Relief & Development Organization joined the celebration which 400 children, plus three international federations: the International Table Tennis Federation, World Association of Kickboxing Organizations and international Teqball Federation.

Christian Karembeu encouraged children to play Teqball whilst Aya Medany led a ‘Sport Simple’ fencing workshop for 15 young Syrians, and kickboxing champion Tomaz Barada introduced a dozen girls to kickboxing. Furthermore, the International Table Tennis Federation organized several table tennis workshops with the help of Ryu Seung Min, the 2004 Olympic Games Men’s Singles gold medallist.

50 refugee children participated in a 5-km #WhiteCard relay, which consisted passing a #WhiteCard torch from hand to hand throughout the camp.

More than 1,500 people held up in front of the camera as a way to celebrate the power of football for positive social change and inclusion. Days before this demonstration, AS Monaco players had also participated in the online campaign during their training session.

Mini Basketball Games inspire social change

The “Mini Basketball Games” gathered around 100 Angolan children under 12 years old living in the community of Cazenga. During the event organized by the Club Escola Desportiva Formigas do Cazenga and the Angola Olympians Association, kids painted a wall on the subject of April 6 and heard testimonies from Olympian athletes. #WhiteCard photos were taken with the basketball champions Nacissela Mauricio, Victor Muzadi, Joaquim Gomes alias “Kikas” and Carlos Almeida.

The Angola Olympians Association organized also an event in collaboration with the Macovi Sport Club in order to propose different sport activities for around 150 kids from different gender and ages.

MEMORABLE INITIATIVES

Celebrating peace with a Color Race

The Ministry of Youth in the Kingdom of Bahrain organized a “1,000 Steps for Peace” event and a color run event to celebrate April 6. The interactive activity was characterized by a marketing campaign to raise funds to build a football field in the Za’atari refugee camp in Jordan. A #WhiteCard photo closed this beautiful day.

Croatia plays for UN Global Goals

Croatia saw an inspiring mobilization this April 6. The Croatian Olympic Committee, the Croatian United Nations Association and Croatian Olympic Academy organized a full day of sports activities to raise awareness about the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda. Participants and guests took part in a futsal and basketball tournament and raised #WhiteCards in support of worldwide peace efforts.

Champions for Peace raise their voice at UNHQ

The UNHQ in New York celebrated April 6. The United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime came together with the Republic of Colombia : the Permanent Missions to the United Nations of Colombia, Italy, Monaco, Qatar and Rwanda to organize a special event titled «Crime Prevention and Sustainable Development through Sports». During the event, Peace and Sport’s Managing Director, Laurent Dupont along with Champions for Peace Tegla Loroupe, Tahl Liebovitz and Maria Toorpakai gave powerful testimonies about their involvement in supporting sport for social change initiatives.

No more wars ... Live Peacefully

To support the International Day for Mine Awareness and Assistance in Mine Action on 4th April and the International Day of Sport for Development and Peace on 6th April, Spirit of Soccer organized a football match to promote peace. Children with Arab, Kurdish and Turkman backgrounds stood together under the banner “No more wars ... Live Peacefully” and endorsed the Mine Risk Education (MRE) message.
